

Following In2Hyperion Is Now Easier Than Ever

In2Hyperion has far surpassed any expectation I had for its success. The authors at in2Hyperion are very proud of its accomplishments. The feedback from our visitors has been encouraging and inspiring. Almost $\frac{3}{4}$ of a million visitors have read nearly 100 articles, and 1,500 people are viewing pages on www.in2hyperion.com every day. An estimated 20,000 people are using our Excel Addin Ribbon.

In an effort to take the next step at keeping more of the community informed about our updates, we are stepping up our social media efforts. We are excited to increase our viewership and now include more ways to follow In2Hyperion.

1. Like us (see above) on Facebook and get status updates every time a new article is published.
2. Sign up for the newsletter (just to the right of this article) and get emails every time a new article is published.
3. Join the In2Hyperion LinkedIn group.
4. Follow our tweets (see above), which include more than just our published articles.

As always, your information stays private and is never sold. Thanks to all those who have made this such a huge success!
